

April 2011 : Lynda Huxley at George Moore's grave on Castle Island, Lough Carra

George Augustus Moore's ashes are interred in an urn here on Castle Island (also referred to as Moore's Island).

Inscription on the grave stone reads:

"George Moore born Moore Hall 1852. Died 1933 London

He forsook his family and friends for his art but because he was faithful to his art his family and friends reclaimed his ashes for Ireland."
